HOW QULIPTA[®] WORKS DIFFERENTLY

While some older preventive migraine treatments were initially developed to treat other conditions, QULIPTA was specifically designed to prevent migraine attacks. QULIPTA is a once daily pill in a different class of preventive treatments - calcitonin gene-related peptide (CGRP) receptor antagonist. CGRP is a protein in your body and is believed to play a major role in migraine attacks causing pain and inflammation. QULIPTA targets CGRP to block it from attaching to your receptors.

QULIPTA BLOCKS CGRP

QULIPTA can cause serious allergic reactions, like anaphylaxis, that can happen when you take QULIPTA or days after. Stop taking QULIPTA and get emergency medical help right away if you get any of the following symptoms, which may be part of a serious allergic reaction: swelling of the face, lips, or tongue; itching; trouble breathing; hives; or rash.
